NORWAY NURSING SERVICE

As the Community Nurse is to be retained for another year, there are a few questions that perhaps can be explained to the satisfaction of those who seem not to understand, although explanations have been made several times in the Advertiser. One is regarding the fee of 75 cents that is charged for bedside calls, as some seem to think all the fees collected, go to the Nurse.

The nurse receives a stated salary, and any and all fees collected go to the treasury of the nursing service, which is for the schools wholly. A part of the rent of the office, supplies, upkeep of the automobile and the like.

Another idea to dispel is that the nurse

her work is in the schools, watching general health, but she is ready at all times to answer calls for bedside sickness, always, be it understood, where the physician is in attendance. If a person is not sick enough to have a trained nurse, or cannot afford one, the community nurse, can make a patient comfortable each day, as has been proven where she has been called. If the patient is able to pay, well and good, but if they are not able to pay the fee, she gives her services.

During the month of February, the course in hygiene and home nursing in high in praise of the benefit of the lessons and others are ready to form a second class for adults. Through the kindness of the investor friend, all the equipment for the room was supplied so all the expense of those taking the course is 85 cents for the purchase of the course. The high school girls taking the course are making excellent progress and are enjoying the course.

Contract has been made with the Metropolitan Insurance Company, and by which the community nurse, wherever they employ a community nurse, will be paid by the company. Another question: The nurse only goes where she is called by members of the family like the nurse, only she is sent by the health officer, or for following up the cases to keep the disease from spreading.

During the month of February, the school children were measured, and all as weighed. For the new height, the tables show a new average weight. In some rooms, one of the boys did the measuring. The teacher records the figures. If recess happens to come at the finish, the group about the teacher is quite an index to the individual interest. "Did I gain?" How much taller am I? "What did I weigh last time?" "How much should I gain in month?" The usual answer to the last question is "about a half pound", unless the child is trying to bring the weight up to average. In one rural school, no child is drinking coffee. There is no doubt that such results are largely due to the efforts of the teacher as true also with the use of the tooth brush.

There is a lot to be said for parental interest and cooperation, also.

Knowing that a large proportion of tooth decay is due to lack of daily brushing, efforts are being made to teach the necessity for a twice-a-day habit of cleaning the teeth. The need for it between supper and bedtime is always stressed.

In many of the schools excellent health posters have been planned and made under the direction of the teacher.

Some show excellent free hand cutting and all teach ways of being well.

The Ford has been used to visit all the rural schools except Millettville.

MILTON

Charles Buck

Charles Buck of this place passed away, Saturday, February 25, at ten minutes of ten, after a long sickness.

He had been in poor health for a long time. He had a shock last fall, leaving one side paralyzed and has gradually growing worse. He was three times married, his first wife, being Nellie Estes, who passed away several years ago, to them were born several children, four of them survive, Mrs.

Mary Ann, wife of Clarence Farm, of Woodstock, Flora Farum, wife of Albert Farum, of South Paris, Minnola, wife of Elmer Aldrich, of Norway and Roy Buck of Buckfield, one son Guy, who is a nurse and accident a few years ago. He afterward married Etta Cole of Woodstock, who had but a few years; his last wife, Mrs. Annie Buck, survives him. He was tenderly cared for through his sickness by Mrs. Fred Buck, who is a nurse and has done everything to make him comfortable till the end. His funeral was held Monday, at one o'clock at the house, attended by Rev. Mr. Young of Bryant Pond. He was laid at rest at the cemetery in Woodstock. He was about 67 years of age.

Don C. Seitz Lectured in Framingham, Mass.

Don C. Seitz of the Outlook, formerly for many years connected with the New of his youthful days in Norway, Maine.

Lecturing in Framingham, Mass., Friday evening, March 2, on "Keeping Ahead of the Headlines," in the Open Forum held in the hall at the Civics League of that town, he recalled his own newspaper experiences, as "printer's devil," in the office of the Norway paper, and of his first "item," produced with much labor and study. When he handed it in it read as follows: "Granville Reed has a stalk of southern corn 13 feet high." The elderly editor took it, read it, and "did things" to it, as editors will. Then he called the boy and said, "Don, I have made a few changes in your item," pausing deliberately.

"You didn't say where Granville Reed lives. He lives on an important corner of town. You didn't say anything complimentary about him; he has been a selectman. And you shouldn't have said that it is southern corn. Southern corn ought to be 13 feet high." Thus he Washington cakes, etc., and hot coffee and cocoa, also home made candy, a nice social hour was enjoyed by all.

Old Bill Says

Isn't it funny that every time a frank pops up some people want to make him President of the United States?
We people here in the country don't seem to have any private property.
Autoists drive through our fields and trample grass and fish, build camp fires, leave our gates open and act as though we ought to feel highly honored by their condescension, while we, who go by one of their summer camps and find about one half an acre or rocks with the sign "Private Property, Keep Off", stuck on their gate, I wish they could see how ridiculous they look to us.
—Old Bill.

WHEN the new American Edition of the Erskine Six is delivered to you, take its wheel and speed away at 40-miles-an-hour. No need to go through the old, tedious 20-mile-an-hour-breaking-in process!

Such speed at the outset is practicable in the new Erskine Six, first, because it is built with exacting, fine-car precision; second, because the highest quality materials are employed; and third, because it is subjected to the most rigid inspections. Such methods have heretofore been known only in cars costing thousands. The new Erskine is ready for 40-mile speed immediately —62 miles an hour later.

Further proof of advanced design is to be found in the recent record established by a stock model Erskine Six sedan—24 consecutive hours running at an average speed of better than 54-miles-an-hour. This established a new record for stock cars under $1,000.

Lesson for March 11

JESUS FEEDS THE MULTITUDE

LESSON TEXT—Mark 6:31-44.
GOLDEN TEXT—I am the bread of life that cometh to Me shall never hunger, and he that believeth on Me shall never thirst.
PRIMARY TOPIC—An Unusual Meal.
JUNIOR TOPIC—A Hungry Crowd Fed.
INTERMEDIATE AND SENIOR TOPIC—Jesus Feeding Every-Day Needs.
YOUNG PEOPLE AND ADULT TOPIC—Jesus' Compassion for Human Need.

1. Jesus' Invitation to the Weary Disciples (vv. 31, 32).

The apostles had just returned from an evangelistic tour in Galilee with a report of what they had done and taught. Their ministry occasioned no little stir. Besides, Jesus himself continued to preach. As a result of their combined ministry, the commotion was so great that there was no opportunity for resting or eating. In such a time of need Jesus invited His disciples to retire from the crowd and rest. In order to do this they departed privately by ship for a desert place. Periods of withdrawal from the crowd in fellowship with the Lord are necessary after evangelistic campaigns. They serve a double purpose.

1. To get the eyes of the ministers off themselves and their work.

2. To prevent dependency for their failures.

II. Jesus Teaching the Ignorant Multitude (vv. 33, 34).

1. Thronged by the people (v. 33). The wonderful words and works of the Lord and His disciples brought the multitudes to them. To escape the throng they took their departure for a desert place (v. 32). Seeing the Lord and His disciples depart, the people from the surrounding cities anticipated their landing place, and, proceeding thither, welcomed the ship upon its arrival.

2. The Lord moved with compassion (v. 34).

Instead of becoming irritated by the intrusion of the crowd His heart was moved with pity. His personal interests were forgotten as the needs of the shepherdless sheep pressed upon His notice, therefore He began to teach them many things. Jesus is now the same compassionate Saviour, touched with the feelings of our infirmities (Heb. 4:15).

III. Jesus Feeding the Hungry Multitude (vv. 35-44).

1. Conference with the disciples (vv. 35-38).

(1) The disciples request that the multitude be sent to the surrounding villages to buy bread (v. 36). According to Matthew, Christ made the proposition that the multitude be fed (Matt. 14:16). (2) Jesus commands them to feed the multitude (v. 37).

(3) The disciples' perplexity (v. 37). They began to calculate as to the amount of provisions required. They asked the Lord whether they should go and buy two hundred pennyworth of bread. Their perplexity was due to the fact that they were depending upon their own resources instead of Christ. To be face to face with the humanity impossible has a threefold benefit. (a) It makes us realize our dependence upon Christ. (b) Drives us to Him for help in our need. (c) Leads us to give Him the glory for the results. Though our ability to teach, preach or to give, be meager, when coupled with the Lord's ability, it is equal to any demand.

2. Jesus' method in feeding the multitudes (vv. 39-44).

(1) The Lord's part. This was to issue instructions as to the method of procedure and to create the provision. Though they had but five loaves and two fishes He so increased them that the need of the hungry multitude was met.

(2) The disciples' part. They were to have the people sit down in companies so as to facilitate distribution. They then took that which the Master had blessed and distributed it to the people. The disciples' responsibility was not for the creation of the provision, but for its distribution to the people. (3) The people's part. Their part was not to create, nor distribute, but obediently to sit down and partake of the provision. Even after the bread had been blessed by the Lord and distributed by the disciples, they would have famished with hunger had they not partaken of the food. Unless the people receive Jesus Christ and the salvation which He has provided they shall eternally starve. The Lord has done His part. The disciples are under solemn obligation to do their part and the final responsibility rests upon the people.

Obedience

Obedience is the secret. Not slavish obedience, but sympathetic, loving, eager obedience. May the law of holiness be to us welcome as the light, sweet as the flowers, more to be desired than much fine gold—W. L. Watkinson.

A STEP AHEAD IN STOREKEEPING
The Vision of Today

Times and conditions change. When we first opened our doors only 22 years ago, the automobile was a curiosity, the airplane an impossible dream, the radio unheard of.

Storekeeping must keep up with changing conditions or become as out of date as the horse and buggy. Our new store—this step ahead—reflects the vision of today in every detail of its storekeeping.

The vision of today is:

—a store that provides merchandise of style, beauty and attractiveness gathered from all over the world in sufficient variety and assortment to satisfy the tastes and requirements of our Northern New England people.

—a store of unusual shopping convenience where you may supply your needs with the fewest steps and without delay or where you can spend delightful hours lingering over your shopping.

—a store whose name alone is a complete assurance of fairness and dependability in every transaction.

—a store which combines all of these services with prices always as low and often lower than those quoted for equal quality elsewhere.

—a store where the most thrifty, or those to whom price is no object, may shop to equal advantage.

But while our new store reflects the vision of today, it's good to know that the best of the old remains.

—that the old time spirit of cordiality and hospitality always identified with this store remains unchanged—that the friendly atmosphere you have always known, that the little courtesies and pleasant smiles that go so far to make you welcome and at home are still here to greet you whenever you enter our doors.

HARRISON

Susie's Band—Club Meetings—Mrs. Fay in Boston to Attend Dog Show.

"Midst 'sweet peals from the peeler' and melodious strains from the strains of the Calvary Community Church, made its initial appearance in this vicinity at the Grange Hall, Wednesday evening, February 22. Promptly at eight o'clock the members of the band, twenty young ladies in starch white uniforms, adorned with bright red sashes and caps on which tiny tin spoons shone in the light, appeared under the leadership of Mrs. Herbert R. Davidson, who played the part of Susie. To the martial strains of Sousa's "Stars and Stripes Forever," with kitchen instruments blaring, they marched down the aisles of the hall and took their places in neat semi-circles on the stage.

With the appearance of "Grandma," beautifully personified by Mrs. Nathaniel Whitney, the regular program began. Grandmas, spending a quiet evening alone, wanders down "Memory Lane" with her old photograph album, and as the old fashioned tableaux appear in their frame on the stage, the band plays appropriate selections, ranging in style from "Poor Papa" and "Henry's Made a Lady Out of Lizzie" to the "Little Brown Church in the Vale." Selections by the entire troop were interspersed with solos, duets, etc., both vocal and instrumental, as well as exhibition dances and burlesque performances. Among those features worthy of special mention were: "Down By the Old Mill Stream," "Alice Deane, Frances Pitts and William.

On Thursday evening, Feb. 23, the concert was repeated at Bolster's Mills, where Eliza Boothby delighted the audience with her exhibition of the "Cherry Tree," Feb. 27th was the date of the third performance, this time at South Waterford. Everywhere the concert has been received with great enthusiasm and applause, and the band has every reason to expect a like reception next Thursday evening, March 8, when the troop will journey to Bridgton and present its program in the High School gymnasium.

During the entertainments, the tableaux were in charge of Mrs. John Edgely and Mrs. Arthur Stanley. Everett Chapman, Donald Whitney, Junior Poon and Edward Thibault also assisted in the tableaux. The program was enjoyed by all as follows: Mrs. Herbert Davidson, leader; Agnes Whitman, Alice Davidson, Dorothy Robbins, Frances Pitts, Eliza Boothby, Marie Burnham, Lillian Gursley, Gladys Wither, Grace Jones, Eva Jones, Cathleen Libby, Margaret Libby, Frances Burnham, Ella Thibault, Eliza Boothby, Gladys Chapman, Melba Carlton, Marie Stuart, Gladys Smith, Marie Smith, Beatrice Wymann, Margaret Davidson, pianist.

The Wagonville Literary Club met with Mrs. E. P. Bennett at her home on Main St., Thursday afternoon. The program was enjoyed by all as follows: Mrs. George W. Bennett, leader; Mrs. G. W. Bennett, Eliza Boothby, Marie Burnham, Lillian Gursley, Gladys Wither, Grace Jones, Eva Jones, Cathleen Libby, Margaret Libby, Frances Burnham, Ella Thibault, Eliza Boothby, Gladys Chapman, Melba Carlton, Marie Stuart, Gladys Smith, Marie Smith, Beatrice Wymann, Margaret Davidson, pianist.

The Club has purchased 4 trees at the Porteous, Mitchell & Braun Co. Notch to help preserve the Old Man of the Mountain beauties. Among those present were Mrs. J. P. Blake, Mrs. L. Walker, Mrs. M. H. Pitts, Mrs. F. P. Freeman, Mrs. Leroy Penley, Mrs. H. P. Denison, Mrs. C. S. Whitney, Mrs. N. E. Whitney and the hostess, Mrs. Bennett. The refreshments were served. The next meeting will be with Mrs. Meroy and Mrs. Mary Gay.

The Laford Whist Club met with Mrs. Fred Tenney on Elm St., Friday evening with four tables at play. Mrs. R. W. Harmon won the highest honors of the evening. Delicious canapés were served by the hostess.
